

ALL4, LLC acquires Spanish digital consultancy Laragon Sustainability Solutions

May 21, 2024

US-based All4 LLC (ALL4), a leader in environmental, safety and health consulting and digital services, today announced the acquisition of LARAGON Sustainability Solutions, a technology consulting firm specializing in the digital transformation of ESG, Environmental Management, Safety and Health, Risk and Compliance operations, headquartered in Madrid, Spain. This acquisition will enable the integration of both companies' ESG and EHS (Environment, Health and Safety) digital consulting practices, creating a global leader in the sector.

Chad Morris, Chief Growth Officer of ALL4, said, 'The acquisition of LARAGON brings together two geographic leaders covering North America, Europe and Latin America to become a premier global provider of digital services and EHS consulting. This will better serve our customers and supply partners while providing greater growth opportunities for our employees.

LARAGON was founded in 2006 and is a recognised market leader in the European and Latin American market for digital management solutions. Its services cover the complete software implementation lifecycle, from requirements analysis and technology assessment to implementation and deployment of multi-vendor systems, expert system integration and data analysis services, as well as an integrated and flexible support model. Laragon partners with technology leaders in Quality, Environment, Health and Safety (QEHS), Operational Risk Management (ORM), Environment, Social and Governance (ESG), IoT and AI to design, implement and deploy solutions across industries with the support of LARAGON's Innovation Lab.

María Cortes, co-founder of LARAGON, commented that 'the incorporation of LARAGON to ALL4 will allow us to meet our strategic objectives of growth and expansion, relying on the great synergies between both companies, both geographically and in our ecosystem of alliances, and above all in the skills and capabilities of both teams to meet the needs of large global organisations. ALL4 and LARAGON also share the same values and culture of customer service, which was essential for us when choosing a business partner to grow with in the long term.
