Thomas Lucario, CEO of North American Rail Solutions, stated: "The addition of Tri Innovations to the North American Rail Solutions family of companies adds incredible capabilities to our portfolio. This positions North American Rail Solutions as one of the only major rail maintenance and construction providers in North America to offer a full suite of truly in-house services, from design-build to maintenance and operations. The Tri Innovations team is a perfect fit for our culture of providing innovative solutions to customer problems and will integrate well with our other operations across the United States and Canada."

Kurt Findlay, CEO of Tri Innovations, added: "We are thrilled to join North American Rail Solutions. Our shared commitment to customer-centric solutions and innovation will strengthen our ability to deliver unparalleled value to our clients. We are eager to collaborate with NARS to expand our reach and enhance the services we offer and deliver exceptional value."
