HB&A Joins RS&H

Natick, MA (June 4, 2024) – HB&A, a Colorado Springs-based architecture and planning firm, joined RS&H, an employee-owned architecture, engineering, and consulting firm.

Founded in 1971, HB&A is an established leader in architecture and planning for the federal, local government, commercial, and non-profit sectors, with a portfolio of projects across Colorado and beyond. With a tradition that began in 1941, RS&H provides a wide range of services in the aerospace, aviation, corporate, federal, health and science, and transportation markets nationwide.

HB&A principal Aaron Briggs, AICP, and the other HB&A principal owners are enthusiastic about the opportunities that joining RS&H will bring for the firm and its associates. “We have been looking for a partner that shares our values and passion for design, creativity, and serving our clients and communities. By becoming part of RS&H, we can offer our clients expanded expertise and capabilities while also providing greater career growth and employee ownership opportunities for our talented team.”

“We’re excited to welcome HB&A to RS&H,” said Dave Sweeney, PE, RS&H CEO. HB&A’s innovative and creative team is a great addition and will enhance RS&H’s service offerings to our growing client portfolio. We share a common culture and look forward to creating a more connected future together.”

Morrissey Goodale, a specialized management consulting and research firm exclusively serving the architecture, engineering, and environmental consulting industries, initiated the transaction and advised HB&A.
