Primera Engineers Acquires Corey Electrical Engineering

Natick, MA (June 5, 2024) – Engineering design and consulting firm Primera Engineers (Primera) acquired Corey Electrical Engineering (Corey), an electrical engineering and consulting services firm serving commercial, institutional, industrial, governmental, and transportation clients.

With a strong presence in the Midwest and Mid-Atlantic regions, the addition of Corey’s team extends Primera’s reach into the western United States.

The strategic move marks a significant milestone and reinforces Primera’s commitment to growth. The acquisition of Corey represents the union of two dynamic woman-owned firms. Both Primera and Corey share core values centered around people, collaboration, and client-focused solutions.

“We are thrilled to welcome the talented team from Corey to our Buildings division,” explains Erin Inman, President & CEO of Primera. “Our shared commitment to client satisfaction makes this partnership a natural fit. Together, I’m confident we will create lasting impact.”

“Joining forces with Primera is an exciting new chapter for Corey,” explains former Corey President & Owner Anne Stilson-Cope. “The most important factor for me was finding a partner that would continue to care for our people, and we found that in Primera. This creates wonderful opportunities for Corey employees and clients alike.”

Morrissey Goodale, a specialized management consulting and research firm exclusively serving the architecture, engineering, and environmental consulting industries, advised Primera in the transaction.
