

Rockwood Equity Partners Announces Investment in Energy Renewal Partners

June 05, 2024

Rockwood Equity Partners is pleased to announce that it has completed an investment in Austin-based Energy Renewal Partners ("ERP"), an energy consulting service provider specializing in energy development and decommissioning projects across the United States. Founded in 2009 and led by industry veteran Trisha Elizondo, ERP offers a comprehensive range of predevelopment and construction consulting services for energy developers and operators. These services include habitat assessments and wetland delineations for wind, solar, and battery projects; constraints and permitting analyses; due diligence; landowner support and community engagement; and prospecting and mapping.
