

MMCG Invest and Innowave Studio Merge to Revolutionize Feasibility Studies and Site Plans

October 06, 2024

MMCG Invest, LLC, a leading feasibility study provider, and Innowave Studio, LLC, a renowned site plan provider, are excited to announce a strategic merger to enhance service offerings and expand market reach. This alliance is set to deliver unparalleled services in feasibility studies and site planning, meeting evolving client needs and setting new industry benchmarks.

Synergy of Expertise

"Integrating skilled architects into our feasibility studies propels us far ahead of the competition," said Michal Mohelsky, Principal of MMCG Invest, LLC. "This merger allows us to embed architectural innovation directly into our analytical processes, offering clients a more comprehensive service."

"With MMCG's market data and expertise, we're not just a site plan provider," added Viola Sauer, Principal of Innowave Studio, LLC. "We can now craft site plans that minimize market-indicated risks and maximize profitability. This partnership enhances our ability to deliver designs that not only meet aesthetic standards but also optimize financial outcomes."

MMCG provides feasibility studies for projects involving the Small Business Administration (SBA) and the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA), ensuring clients receive expert guidance on navigating these governmental programs.

Client-Centric Benefits

Comprehensive Solutions: Clients receive end-to-end services from initial feasibility studies to final site planning, ensuring consistency and efficiency.

Market-Driven Strategies: Access to extensive market data and analysis allows for designs and plans that align with current trends and future projections.

Innovative Approaches: The fusion of analytical and creative talents fosters innovative solutions adaptable to the dynamic real estate and construction markets.

Maintaining Individual Identities with a Unified Vision

While maintaining their individual legal entities, MMCG and Innowave Studio will operate seamlessly due to shared personnel and organizational structures. This approach allows each company to preserve its brand identity and specialized services while offering clients the benefits of a fully integrated team.

Link to original press release:

<https://www.prlog.org/13041971-mmcg-invest-and-innowave-studio-merge-to-revolutionize-feasibility-studies-and-site-plans.html>

