HGA Acquires Reliable Power Consultants

Natick, MA (January 23, 2025) – Hunt, Guillot & Associates (HGA), a full-service program management and engineering firm serving the chemicals, energy transition, government & infrastructure, manufacturing, oil & gas, and power & utilities industries, acquired Reliable Power Consultants (RPC), an engineering firm specializing in power distribution design, staking, right-of-way, and inspection services.

Headquartered in Colorado, RPC offers innovative end-to-end solutions that comply with legal mandates, regulatory requirements, and public relations objectives for projects. As a leading provider in power distribution, RPC utilizes cutting-edge tools and technologies to ensure efficient and effective solutions for power distribution challenges.

Founded two decades ago, RPC has established a strong reputation for excellence, serving major clients such as Poudre Valley Rural Electric Association, LaPlata Electric Association, and Empire Electric Association, among others. With three offices located in Durango, Fort Collins, and Brighton, RPC's expertise will significantly enhance HGA's service offerings and geographic presence.

Trotter Hunt, Principal at HGA, commented, "Acquiring RPC is a significant step in our strategic growth plan. The synergies between our companies are remarkable, and we are excited to welcome RPC into the HGA family. We look forward to growing together in the future."

Morrissey Goodale, a specialized management consulting and research firm exclusively serving the architecture, engineering, and environmental consulting industries, initiated the transaction and advised HGA.
